Objection: The law firm calculates deadline by hand and it’s working fine.
Response: Manually calculating and adding deadlines to calendars is risky. Missed deadlines are the number one cause of malpractice claims. With a modern add-in attorneys get better visibility to deadlines and can view deadlines on any device using O365 for iPhone, iOS and Android.

Objection: Why go with LawToolBox365 instead of the competition?
Response: LawToolBox365 is built inside Office 365, works seamlessly in the Microsoft ecosystem, born in the cloud and automating rule changes since the 90s. Law firms can start using in minutes instead of learning a system that requires a dedicated IT support to make it work with other products. CompuLaw started as a premise-based software in the 1980’s and was not designed from the start to function in the cloud. Firms that are not yet using LawToolBox switch to LawToolBox365 when they upgrade to Office 365.

Objection: We already have a case management system.
Response: LawToolBox365 works with any case management system that two-way syncs with Outlook or Google. LawToolBox court rule sets are also available with LexisNexis Time Matters or Microsoft Matter Center, Clio and now Citrix.

Objection: Too expensive.
Response: LawToolBox365 is a cutting-edge modern deadline calculator, and it offers deadlines at the lowest price this quality of deadlines has ever been offered at. Worth every penny to avoid just one dispute over missed deadlines. Malpractice insurance discounts for computerized rule-based calendaring systems can save more money than the cost of the product. Performs calculations in minutes that if done by hand can take hours of unbillable time.
PROBING QUESTIONS FOR LAW FIRM
1. Do your attorneys rely on Outlook calendars to track their deadlines?
2. Is the law firm staff manually calculating deadlines from a checklist?
3. Are they entering deadline into calendars and sending calendar invites one-at-a-time?
4. How does the law firm find out about and implement the court’s rule changes?
5. Can attorneys view a list of deadlines for a case or for the firm?
6. What happens when any attorney leaves or cases get re-assigned?
7. Are attorney calendars cluttered with deadlines that don’t apply?
8. Would rules-based calendaring, automated rule changes, and seamless integration with internal team member Outlook calendars help manage risk and make it easier to run the law firm?
9. Is firm getting malpractice insurance discounts w/ an centralized calendaring system?

COMING January 2017!!!

LawToolBox365 For each new matter created on LawToolBox365, users can get:
• Matter Documents (via Matter SharePoint site)
• Matter Email
• Matter Calendar
• Matter OneNote
Also works great for firms with case management solutions-premise or cloud

PARTNER OPPORTUNITY

• Become trusted advisor
• VERY EZ to implement
• Good Supporting collateral

QUICK WINS FOR “Net” NEW OFFICE 365 SEATS!
Small law firms generate deadlines by hand, LawToolBox365 is a “no-brainer” but can’t get it until they upgrade to Office 365
Mid/large law when these firms migrate to Office 365 they typically modernize, replace premise, and upgrade to LawToolBox365

PROBING QUESTIONS FOR LEGAL DEPARTMENT
1. Would it be helpful to view a deadlines chart for cases your outside counsel is handling?
2. How do you manage your company’s litigation calendar?
3. If you could easily share key dates and deadlines internally and externally would this potentially improve the outcome of your case?
4. Would rules-based calendaring, automated rule changes, and seamless integration with internal team member Outlook calendars help manage risk of missing deadlines
